

Act 1:

Vidson, after finishing a delivery within Zaun, stopped by the Dirty Glass bar. This bar is a well known spot by members of the Jade Whisper gang. Shoto, Jade Whisper's leader, holds a very big influence within Zaun; most do not wish to go to his bad side. Vidson, after asking bartender Wendy about the best dishes at the Dirty Glass, asks about the various gang activity within Zaun. Busy, and not wishing to get involved, pushes Vidson away. Vidson goes and sits at a table.

Shoto, noticing Vidson as not a local, sends Po-Lin over to talk with Vidson. After exchanging formalities, Vidson once again asks about gang activities within Zaun. This time however, Po-Lin gives him the information. Along with this, Po-Lin says that if Vidson wants to learn more about Jade Whisper, Vidson will need to show that he means business. Po-Lin commands Vidson to steal $50 from the food cart a few blocks down the street within 15 minutes. Vidson complies, and leaves the Dirty Glass. Shoto instructs Po-Lin to follow.

Once Vidson goes to the cart, he attempts to buy a snack, use air bending to send the money flying, and steal the money then. However, the shop owners quick reflexes mean that he catches the floating money before he has a chance to go after it. Persistent, Vidson attempts to steal the cart owner's breath. When the cart owner sees that this is happening, he makes a flame with his hand, shoves the flame into the face of Vidson, hits a Red transponder-locator, and while Vidson is still stunned by the flame in his face, runs off leaving the cart behind.

Vidson, after coming to his senses, takes $50 out of the register and hurries back to the Dirty Glass. He walks in, Po-Lin is not there. He goes back to the bar and orders another drink from Wendy. Vidson waits another 5 minutes but does not see Po-Lin come in, talk to Shoto about what happened, and return to his original seat. Vidson turns around, sees Po-Lin, and goes and sits next to him. Po-Lin asks how it went? Vidson says that he has complied, gives the money. Po-Lin counts it, nods, and says that he will be in touch. Vidson leaves. Shoto, after being informed of what happened, tells Po-Lin that he doesn't want someone within the Jade Whisper who can't even steal someone's breath. However, Po-Lin points out that there are rumors of an airbender asking around about information about the various gangs, implying that Vidson may be that airbender.

Act 2:

Part 1:

About 20 minutes after Vidson leaves, 4 cars roll up to the Dirty Glass. Within the cars, 6 fire benders, 3 earth benders, 2 non-benders. The leader of this group walks in last, while the other 10 form a perimeter around the entrance of the building and file around the sides. All have their face exposed, but their leader is wearing a black mask with a red stripe on it. The masked man surveys the room, and notices Shoto in his usual spot in the corner and walks over.

Masked Man- "Shoto"

(Shoto Stands up)

Shoto- "Regent"

Regent- "I heard that a guy coming out of here went and harassed one of my cart vendors a little bit ago. You have any knowledge of that?"

Shoto- "That wasn't one of my guys. Po-Lin can confirm it."

Regent- "Listen, you and I know each other, I don't want to but heads about this. I leave your people alone, you leave my people alone."

Shoto- "It wasn't my guys, Regent."

Regent- "...ok, then can we at least talk to Po-Lin?"

Shoto- "What I just told you is all I will tell you, it wasn't my guys."

Regent- "...fine....Arthur?"

Arthur nods, points crossbow at Wendy the bartender, purposely misses head by 6 inches.

Regent- "My men don't miss. You leave my people alone, you hear."

(Rest of Shoto's men stand up.)

Shoto- "Regent, I think its time you all leave."

Regent- "...Listen, you and I are on opposite sides of Republic City, I'll instruct my men to stay away from here, and you do the same. Deal?"

Shoto- "Fine."

Regent- "Ok guys, we're leaving."

Act 2

Part 2:

Heather Sudbrock is a reporter for the Republic Gazette, a prominent newspaper within Republic City and its outlying communities. Heather was in the Dirty Glass when all of this took place. Heather takes notes, but doesn't know much about Zaun and the events that take place with the Jade Whisper. Wanting to get more information, Heather goes to Wendy for some informion. Heather asks Wendy if she is OK. After this, Heather asks if events that just took place happen often. Heather asks similar questions to Vidson, but once again Wendy somewhat blows her off. Heather wishes Wendy a good night, and leaves.

Act 3:

The following morning, on the 4th page of the Republic Gazette, a somewhat flowery version of the former night's events are published, written by Heather. Augis is traveling within one of the outlying communities of Republic City, and a news boy yells out the headlines. Regent is within the headline, and peaks Augis's interest. He buys the paper, and goes into Republic City to investigate. He goes to the main downtown, which is more locally called "Rosetusk". He walks around downtown, until he comes upon the tallest building. He walks inside and finds a receptionist.

Frontier Receptionist- "Hello welcome to The Frontier."

Augis- "Hi. I am looking for the Republic Gazette Building. Where is that?"

Frontier Receptionist- "Of course. If you go out, turn right, go north about 5 blocks, take a right, then another 3 blocks East, it will be on your Left side. It's about an 8 story Red brick building, and you'll know because the bottom two floors will have wood blocking the windows. The Gazette is on floors 6, 7, & 8."

Augis- "Thank you very much."

Augis goes to the building described, walks in about 1 pm. He walks in, sees a receptionist on his left after 15 feet, and then 20 feet beyond it is a security guard, and 2 elevators. One elevator says 1,2,3,4,5; the other says 1,6,7,8.

Gazette Receptionist- "Hello how may I help you?"

Augis- "Yes I am looking for the person who wrote this article."

The Gazette Receptionist informs Augis that he can meet with the person who wrote the article, but the appointment must be 48 hours in advance. Augis persists, but the receptionist states that this is policy. Augis says that he will wait in the lobby until Heather returns from the lunch.

Once Heather returns from lunch, she enters with two other people. Heather is 25, and dressed business casual. The man with her looks to be in his early 30's, dressed in business casual. The other woman looks to be in her mid- 30's, dressed like she definitely has a meeting that day. Augis greets Heather about the article. Heather becomes very giddy about someone coming to talk to her about her article. The other 2 stand back and watch the conversation take place. Heather says that Augis would need to make an appointment, but drops the request once Augis brings up why he is there. The conversation continues until Corrie, an underling of Shoto, enters the lobby. Corrie walks up to Heather, grabs her shoulder, and says "we need to go." Immediately, the man who was watching the conversation who walked in with Heather grabs Corrie's arm and pulls it off her shoulder. The security guard notices this, and begins to walk over to the group.

Spooked, Corrie runs back out and leaves behind a receipt from the Man in Arms, a weapons shop within Zaun. The guard picks up the receipt and tells the group that Corrie was at the Man in Arms within the past week (Guard and Shoto both know that Corrie was at the Man in Arms 2 days ago). Once Corrie leaves and the situation is under control, Heather says that Augis will need to make an appointment. Augis goes to the receptionist and attempts to make the appointment. When asked for a name for the appointment, Augis gives his first name, but is hesitant to give his last name. Augis attempts to persuade the receptionist, but ultimately leaves without the appointment. Before leaving, Augis asks about where Zaun is, and once being told that it is in the Northeast part of Republic City, leaves and goes back to the subway.

End of Session 1.
